

a Scavenger Hunt with God

As God-adventurers we are created to explore the unknown.

But instead of expectation and excitement for charting paths into new territory, we are timid and fearful.

What if we practiced noticing God in our days?

As we become aware of His presence, a childlike faith and curiosity stirs within us. We remember the joy of discovery and the fun of exploring life with God- accepting new challenges, embracing change, and welcoming mystery.

Today, grab your camera and a piece of paper, take pictures and be on the hunt for all the moments where you notice God's presence throughout your day- morning 'til evening.

It may be through His word, during a walk, in a person, conversation, or while you're making coffee...
God lovingly chooses to reveal Himself to us in such fun, creativity, and specific ways during our day.
Are you ready to regain your childlike curiosity and faith?
